Auto Accident on Sunday

On Sunday evening, while a car returning from a western Beach was standing in front of Mr Hennig's residence on the Baseline, and the driver was replenishing the water in the radiator from a nearby slough, the car was "bumped into" by an auto driven by Mr Don Anderson of Ogoway. The latter gentleman was bringing a sick youth to Stony for treatment by a doctor.

It is claimed the standing car had no lights showing whatever, and as Mr Anderson was coming down a steep hill, he did not discover the other vehicle until too late.

Mr Anderson's two-piece windshield was smashed by the impact, and the occupants of the other car were shaken up considerably. The cars were hauled in to the Service Garage for repairs.

NOXIOUS WEEDS !

Your co-operation with Provincial and Municipal authorities is solicited in the control and eradication of weeds. Keep your fields and roadsides free from these unsightly and costly pests.

Weeds reduce the yield and lower the grade of your grain, rob the soil of its fertility and cost money in dockage and transportation. Approximately 6,000 cars were required to haul the screenings from one season's crop in Western Canada to terminal markets. Will you not help to reduce this enormous loss?

Give your local weed inspector and the Provincial Field Supervisor in your district every possible support in dealing with the weed problem.

"Safety First" on the Highways

At the risk of being somewhat tiresome, the writer of this column feels impelled to once again direct attention to the subject appearing as the title to this article. Justification for such action, if, indeed, any justification is needed, is to be found in certain well established facts.

In the three prairie provinces last year the number of motor cars registered exceeded half a million.

In all three provinces, Governments and municipalities are straining their resources in the construction and improvement of good market roads and provincial highways, and every mile so constructed or improved results in an increase in motor vehicular traffic and an increase in the speed at which most of the cars will travel.

In the improvement of highways, advances are being constantly made in the direction of making them as nearly as possible "safe" through increases in width, reduction in grades and curves, guard rails at curves and danger spots, and a standardized system of marking the highways, indicating routes, turns, curves, railway crossings, danger spots, etc.

On the other hand, year by year, manufacturers of cars are increasing the power and speed of cars, and with gradual price reductions their use is becoming almost universal. It is true, of course, that four-wheel brakes, and other safety devices, are being added, and manufacturers are interested and active in making their cars as nearly "fool proof" as they can be made.

The fact to emphasize, and which it is important should be drilled into the minds of every motorist, is that no matter what Governments and municipalities may do in the matter of road construction, and no matter how strongly and carefully motor cars may be built and equipped from the prevention of accident standpoint, the human element remains. Neither roads nor cars can be made "fool proof," and the unfortunate fact is that the reckless driver is just as great a danger to others as he is to himself. If the highways of the country are to be made safe, it is evident that there must be a decided change in the attitude and conduct of many thousands of motor car drivers, and the public generally.

In an address before the annual convention of the Union of Saskatchewan Municipalities, Hon. S. J. Latta, announcing the early inauguration of a "Safety First" campaign throughout the Province, stated that he had recently read in a newspaper that someone was either killed or seriously injured every forty seconds in an automobile accident in the United States, and that during 1927 approximately 26,618 persons were killed and 793,700 injured in such accidents. He further referred to the fact that at a conference held in the Parliament Buildings of Ontario it was revealed that 1927 automobile accidents cost 422 lives in Ontario, an increase of 124 over 1926, while 3,976 others were injured. It was further reported that fatalities were in the proportion of eight to one thousand car licenses.

These are appalling figures and certainly indicate the need of somehow controlling this great modern convenience. What was the cause of these accidents? Were they preventable? The results of investigations in the United States show that 11,765 highway accident fatalities in 1927 were caused principally by motorists, of which 3,765 were caused by inattention, 2,706 as the result of speeding, 2,353 through traffic violation, 1,059 from intoxication, and 1,882 from miscellaneous causes.

About an equal number of fatalities, 11,367 to be exact, were caused principally by pedestrians, of which number 3,638 occurred through children playing in the street or crossing in violation of traffic regulations, 3,069 from adult jay-walkers, 1,819 through inattention, 1,591 as a result of confusion, and 1,250 from other causes.

As compared with these more than 23,000 fatalities caused by the human element, there were only 1,290 resulting from fog, snow or rain, 662 from some defect in the vehicle, 558 from skidding, 383 from road defects, 244 from strong lights, 244 from poor street lighting, and 105 from confusion in dimming lights. In other words, physical conditions were responsible for 3,486 fatalities as contrasted with over 23,000 for which people themselves were responsible.

Surely such a record provides ample justification for repeatedly urging people to exercise care, to realize that Common Sense may prevent accidents and should be applied, that the Same way is the Safe way.

Prominent Visitors From Ireland

Marquess Of Dufferin and Ava Will Make Tour Of Canada

The Marquess of Dufferin and Ava, speaker of the senate of Northern Ireland, who is a son of a former governor-general of Canada, was a passenger on the Empress of Scotland, which arrived at Quebec recently. In a short interview, he declared it was his intention to see Canada from coast to coast on his present stay here. Regarding the industrial situation in Northern Ireland, the marquess declared that, with the exception of a slight improvement in the shipbuilding industry at Belfast, there was little change as compared with a year ago.

Antarctic expedition will be a self-rescuing unit and if disaster should befall it no outside aid will be expected.

In a statement to the Associated Press, Commander Byrd said:

Third Wrigley Marathon

Ernst Vierkoetter a Sure Entry In This Outstanding Event

While much dissatisfaction has been expressed by Vierkoetter and his manager regarding the shortening of the distance for the Third Wrigley Marathon, again to be conducted by the Canadian National Exhibition this year, there can be no question about his entering as he is daily training in Lake Ontario.

He seems to be carrying more avoirdupois than he did last year, and experts say that he is a little sluggish. This, of course, at this stage of the game, means little. George Young is the size of a young elephant and swims more or less sluggishly in consequence. Both of them will undoubtedly take this off in the course of their intensive training, so that comparisons are more or less impossible at this time.

Vierkoetter is a great swimmer and unlike most distance men is fast. Witness his feat of last year when he covered the first five miles under 28 minutes each. That should be fast enough to win this year's Marathon.

From a spectacular standpoint the Third Marathon will surpass the Second. The course will be along the sea wall, and will be in full view of the tens of thousands of spectators who will again flock to see the great event.

The entries are now coming in thick and fast and it is estimated that they will exceed those of last year.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to a baby. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No mother can afford to be without Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Many Farmers Join Pool

Estimated That About Half the Wheat Crop Of West Contributed By Pool

The Canadian Wheat Pool, which embraces 142,000 Canadian farmers, continues to add to its membership. In a single day this month contracts were received at head office covering a total of nearly 100,000 acres of grain.

Under the Canadian Wheat Pool system farmers voluntarily sign contracts in which they agree to market all their wheat through the Pool for a period of five years. About half the wheat crop of Western Canada is controlled in this way, and sales by the Pool average over a million dollars for every business day of the year. It is claimed that the Pool has increased the price of wheat to the farmer without increasing the price of bread to the consumer.

Miller's Worm Powders seldom fail. They immediately attack the worms and expel them from the system. They are complete in themselves, not only as a worm destroyer, but as a highly beneficial medicine for children, correcting weak digestion and restoring the debilitated system to healthfulness, without which the growth of the child will be retarded and its constitution weakened.

Thousands Of Prisoners Regain Freedom Under Amnesty Bill

The jail doors in Germany were opened for release of thousands of prisoners recently, when the Reichstag passed by more than the two-thirds necessary majority the most sweeping amnesty bill since the success of the Republican revolution.

Among those to be set free under the measure are the last of the Imperial Army soldiers who were sentenced by the Kaiser's court martial for desertion and other offences.

The bill was opposed only by the Bavarian Folk party of the small Hanover party.

After passage of this measure the Reichstag adjourned until the autumn.

Highland Gathering At Banff An Annual Function That Is Attracting Widespread Interest

(By C. V. Lane.)

Rupert Brooke, famous British poet who died in the war, visited the Rockies some years ago. Unable to withhold his admiration of their grandiose scenery, he qualified it with the criticism that awe-inspiring as they were, they were without human associations such as the Alps possessed. No man looking at them could imagine the tremendous adventure of Hannibal crossing the snow-laden passes with elephants amid the clangor of his motley army of Carthaginians and Spaniards. The torrent of northern barbarians pouring over their heights to the attack of the falling Roman Empire; even almost in our times, the invasion across the Alps of Italy by Napoleon, are with-heights, yet in the last two hundred years has spread itself over the whole earth, although in doing so it has never forgotten its country of origin.

They settled in Quebec, in the Maritimes, and in Ontario, where was comparatively little to remind them of the mountains of their native land. They spread across the Dominion to the Prairies where was much less. Yet whatever nostalgia they felt for the heather, the loch, and the gleus and crags of Auld Scotia, they prospered by reason of that hardship which mountainous country seems especially to breed in its inhabitants. The Rockies attracted them from the first, and many a peak, river and lake has a good out any remotely similar events in the known history of the Canadian Rockies. He concluded from these facts that these mountains, however beautiful they undoubtedly were, lacked history and so were without a soul.

It is not of course everyone who has this historic sense and it is quite conceivable that the majority of Alpine climbers and tourists never give a thought of Hannibal or Napoleon when they are in Switzerland. They are satisfied with what they find there and they may reason that the centuries of man's history are dwarfed into moments of time when compared with the incalculable age of the mountains themselves. Still, there is something in Brooke's argument. To decorate inanimate objects with his own restless life, has always been a folie of man, and what may have been true when he visited the Rockies years ago, is much less so today. For since that time the Highland Scots have left an indelible stamp upon them.

There are several nations in Europe whose history is inseparable from mountains, as for instance the Swiss, the Tyrolese, the Basques, the Scandinavians. But not one of them is so impressively stamped with their atmosphere and charged with their essence as is the Highland Scot. His speech, his music, his outlook on men and things, is tinged, his pleasures and his sorrows are a part of his environment; the other sunk deep in the profundities. A little nation that has always lived in the shadow of the Highland Scottish name derived from the early adventurers and explorers. But it was reserved for the twentieth century to bind the great mountains of Canada to the people whose whole history is inextricably tied up to the peaks. Gathered together in the heart of the Rockies, at a place with a Scotch name, the first Highland Gathering at Banff was inaugurated last year with such success that it is to be repeated this year, and will be in all likelihood an annual function in the future. In this way have the Rockies found that soul which Rupert Brooke lamented they lacked.

Anyone finding themselves at Banff between August 31 and September 3, next, would easily imagine himself in the heart of the Highlands. Scenery, speech, the skirt of the pipes, the color of the tartans, dances, games, everything that is of the Scot, Scottish, will be there, drawn as by a magnet to the attraction of the mountains. It will be as though the Fiery Cross of old times had been lit throughout the country, but for war. This time it will be for peace and for the celebration of the age-old songs, the renewal of the old customs with pipes, dances and sports. Reels, strathspeys and laments that are embedded in the history of the race, never to be forgotten while a Highlander treads the earth; will recall the ancient memories of raid and massacre, of flood and fell, of victory and defeat. And the misty mountain tops will seem to be aureoled with the color and romance of a thousand years of moving history.

Electricity For Farm Homes

Investigation Is To Be Carried Out On Cost In Alberta

Modern farm houses are to be fully equipped and experimental tests carried on with a view to making thorough investigation into the costs of electrifying the average farm home in Alberta, through the co-operation of the University of Alberta, the Calgary Power Co., and the U.P.W.A. It is planned to equip two representative farm homes in the province and operate electrical appliances for a period of one year to determine the actual costs involved. One will be in the north and the other in Southern Alberta.

What a happy world this would be if there were as much enthusiasm at the birth of an enterprise as there is at the start.

The Need Of Thrift

Buying Things One Cannot Afford Is Extravagance

"To have or not to have an automobile?" That is one of the big questions of this age. The auto is certainly a most desirable thing. It brings much pleasure to the owner and his family or friends, and is a great convenience and a decided adjunct to business. Every person who can afford a car should own one. But there are some who have them that are not entitled to them, such, for instance, as persons without jobs, those who have small salaries, those who are sailing close to the wind financially. The auto, while it may be regarded as a necessity in business, is still a luxury so far as pleasure is concerned.

Poultry Improvement

Flock Of High Record Layers Developed At Rosthern Experimental Station

The Dominion Department of Agriculture through the Rosthern Saskatchewan Experimental Station, is becoming an important centre for the improvement of the poultry flocks of the province. The station has developed quite a large flock of high record layers and it is from these that the demand for setting eggs and young birds are being supplied. This station, according to the report of the superintendent, for 1927, has hens that have reached the three hundred egg mark in a year, and the utmost care is being taken to keep the flock up to a high standard of health and production.

The Economic Recovery From The World War Presents A Most Surprising Historical Fact

"The economic recovery from the World War is a more surprising historical fact than that of the World War itself, and it is in many ways a more important one." This challenging statement was made by Professor James T. Shotwell, director of the division of economics and history of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, with reference to the researches which he has been conducting ever since the close of the conflict on the economic effects of the war in all the countries of Europe and in the United States.

Dr. Shotwell pointed out that the war itself had not quite taken Europe by surprise. It had been long anticipated and prepared for; but as it progressed there were no economists or serious thinkers anywhere in any land, who had any glimpses of the rapidity of recovery from the appalling catastrophe.

The results of the economic survey which the Carnegie Endowment has been making in the different European countries indicate a degree of recovery which shows that modern society is capable of enduring economic destruction far beyond what anyone had thought possible in 1914, or even in 1919. Europe had naturally suffered enormous losses, and yet, in spite of all the destruction of property, the standard of living of the working class is higher now in most European countries than it was in 1914. This does not mean that all classes have been able to hold their own. But the working class has definitely improved its wage standard and conditions of living.

This improvement is not caused by the war, but has happened in spite of the war. All of which shows that there are forces at work in modern industry which are revolutionizing the basis of living. The causes for improvement lie in improved business methods, in scientific management, mass production and an increased technical skill. All of this has taken place with very little regard to politics and much of it in disregard of the most reactionary and uneconomical political programs.

The question whether it will continue or how much it may be counted upon is one which any historian would be very slow to answer, in view of the mistakes which have been made in all previous guesses as to the capacity of European civilization, but S. Parker Gilbert's optimistic report of Germany's capacity to pay shows that the world is still upon the upward course.

The scientific researches of the Carnegie Endowment attempt to answer the question, what does war actually do to the economic processes of modern living? The answer is an emphatic negative so far as war is concerned but it has to recognize at the same time that modern civilization has acquired a capacity for adjustment and an economic strength almost incalculable. The fundamental attack upon the war system therefore must remain a moral one for the one irreparable destruction is in human life itself, with the consequent retrogression in moral outlook.

Two new volumes have just appeared in the vast collection of the economic history of the World War, which Dr. Shotwell is directing. They deal with the effect of the war upon Denmark and Norway. An exhaustive series of monographs on Sweden appeared some time ago. A study of these volumes shows how deeply the neutral nations were involved in the blockade and economic struggle.

Barbless Hooks Popular

Lower right—The barbless hook. Ozark Ripley is trying them out on the French River in the other picture.

The record catches of fish at such and soon after re-entering its native element the fish contracts a fungus growth on the affected portion and dies as a result. Wetting the hands lessens the ill effect.

The barbless hook requires little more skill than the older variety as it holds the fighting fish almost as surely, although it may be removed without difficulty. It has become widely popular, and is especially adaptable to fly fishing for bass, trout and salmon.

The barbless hook was invented some years ago by a man named Williams, in Ohio, his model having a bend sloping away from the point that caused considerable damage in being extracted. This idea was taken up six years ago by the late "Smiling" Bill Jameson, well known Chicago fishing tackle expert and veteran fisherman, who reduced the angle of the bend so that it was a slight kink and did much to popularize the new humane hook.

Farmers' Marketing Tour

Canadian National Railway's Tour To Great Britain and Denmark, 1928

In the evening, as guests of the Danish Government at a performance of Faust, in the Royal Opera House, we renewed our acquaintance with Mr. Millington Drake, whom we shall remember, not only as the representative of the British Foreign Office in Denmark, but as a friend of Canada and the Canadian Farmers' Party. Sitting with Mr. Millington Drake, entertained us with a resume of the opera for those who were not familiar with the great work. During the evening we were honored by the appearance in the Royal Box of King Christian, a gracious courtesy which was acknowledged by representatives of the party calling at the palace to sign the Royal book, which is the Danish equivalent of our Canadian custom of leaving cards. The next day the King telegraphed Mr. Millington Drake, as follows: "Please thank the Canadians for their visit to the Queen and me. We hope they will keep a pleasant remembrance of their stay in Denmark."

Before leaving Copenhagen on our return to Esbjerg, we had two important calls to make at the Koller Koller Red Danes, a course breeding farm, and the Daastur Landrace pig breeding station.

The Koller Koller farm, owned by 800 Zealand farmers, has been responsible for many interesting and successful breeding experiments. The herd of 70 purebred Danish Friesian cows, which we inspected was of remarkable uniformity and noteworthy for their beautiful fat test and their copious middle and spring of rib.

On leaving the farm the party received a surprise invitation from Baron van der Neergaard to visit his home and farm, an experience which was much enjoyed. The Baron, who is farming a large acreage, was able to show the party a beautiful estate and a particularly fine herd of cattle.

The visit to the Landrace pig breeding station, revealed something of the secret of the remarkable uniformity which characterizes the Danish hog. Here it was found that the best bacon logs were obtained by crossing the pure Yorkshire type with the Landrace pig, a hardy native breed which is in fact rather coarse and lacks the length so desirable for bacon. Today breeding centres are maintained in different parts of the country, some for Yorkshires, and others for the Landrace from which the Danish families are able to buy pure breeds of both breeds for crossing purposes. The Daastur station which we visited is the oldest, largest and best in Denmark.

On back in Esbjerg, we were introduced to one of the most remarkable achievements of the Danes. The loss of no valuable territory to the Germans, in 1864, gave Denmark the choice of emigration or an attempt to reduce to agriculture on a large scale vast stretches of practically uninhabited country. These vast stretches, along with the West coast of Jutland, where for miles inland no human habitation was known. Such of the land as was not pure drifting sand was covered with gorse and heather.

The Danes bent their energies to the latter course with the result that today there are 350,000 acres in pine forest and 1,200,000 acres, nearly two-thirds of the total original forest, have been reclaimed by tree planting.

Time did not permit us to visit the older plantations, but a trip to one of the ten to fifteen year-old plantations outside Esbjerg, filled us with amazement. A sandy, windswept, barren, poor plain there had been turned into a productive and beautiful country, thousands of acres of which are pasture land, capable of supporting a fair live-stock population.

A trip to Ribe, the oldest town in Denmark, with quaint and narrow streets; then a farewell on behalf of the citizens of Esbjerg, completed our stay in Denmark, a gallant little country which we left with regret. Our sincere appreciation was telegraphed to the Prime Minister and through him to the people of Denmark.

We also telegraphed our thanks to the British Charge d'Affaires, who had proved himself not only a worthy representative of the British Empire, but had become almost a comrade.

Little need be said of the return voyage across the North Sea, and that, for the first time, there was a reduced attendance at the dining table.

London again! No place like London! After all, it was good to hear some news from home. The evening, if spoken with a different accent. Our first morning was spent at leisure, but in the afternoon we were to have the honour of a reception by the King and Queen, and tea at Buckingham Palace. If we had felt some trepidation, it would have been dispelled, but how little need for any such feeling. The byest part would have been put at ease by the kindness of the King, the graciousness of the Queen. Her Majesty had been indisposed for some days, and the Royal party had only returned

Here a leafy brooch which had been presented to her twenty-seven years ago when she visited Canada as the Duchess of York. His Majesty was thoroughly interested in the Danish tour and asked many questions about it. This was the crowning honor in a tour already rich in privileges accorded.

Our next engagement brought us to a sphere in which we were the experts. This was the visit to the Brandon, Suffolk, to the Ministry of Labor's Training Farm for Overseas Settlers, when we were asked frankly to give our impressions of what was being done to transform farm workers employed young men into farm workers for Canada. Here on the beautiful Weeting Hall Estate was the most interesting and most hopeful experiment we had seen. One of the biggest problems which is Britain's legacy of the war, and asked many questions about it. This was the crowning honor in a tour already rich in privileges accorded.

Canada Colonization Association

Hope To Place 3,000 Families On Land This Year

The Canada Colonization Association hopes to reach this year the placing of 3,000 families on privately owned farm lands in Canada. It is now within about 300 of this figure, according to T. O. F. Herzer, manager of this subsidiary of the Canadian Pacific Department of Colonization and Development. Since its inception on January 1st, 1925, the Association has placed 2,679 families on 850,337 acres; this year's contribution up to the end of May, being 325 families settled on 94,114 acres. With Ontario now being included in the circuit of the Association's activities, the placements for the present year, up to May 31st, run as follows: Ontario, 71 families placed on 7,611 acres; Saskatchewan, 14,385 acres; Saskatchewan, 97 families on 20,132 acres; Alberta, 88 families on 25,652 acres; and British Columbia, 25 families on 1,336 acres.

DYSENTERY
COULD BE RELIEVED

Mr. John Melling, Fenner, Alta., writes:—"I am a returned soldier, and when I came home from overseas I suffered greatly with dysentery. The doctor said it was chronic and did not think it could be relieved. However, he decided me for quite a while, but I did me no good. One day the druggist asked me if I had ever tried

"On his recommendation I bought a bottle and after I had taken it got some relief, but I got two more, and have never had the dysentery since 1925."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 29

THE FIRST FOREIGN MISSIONARIES

Golden Text: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."—Matthew 28:19, 20.

Lesson: Acts 13:1-52.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 67.

Explanations and Comments

The first Foreign Missionaries Chosen and Ordained were 1-3. In the flourishing Christian church at Antioch there were numerous prophets and teachers, men of special inspiration. Among these was the energetic and lovable Barnabas of Cyprus, whose name means "The Black"—doubtless an African; Lucius of Cyrene (the province in North Africa lying next to Egypt), who perhaps was one of the Cyprian evangelists who had established this church at Antioch (Acts 11:20); Manan—another form of the Hebrew Menahem (2 Kings 15:14)—the king of the Assyrians, and one of the Tetrarchs (Herod Antipas, son of Herod the Great), and was seemingly a person of some social importance, and, finally, Paul of Tarsus. Apparently the historian meant that the three of the list, to be emphatic, just as was Barnabas, at the beginning of the roll. These three leaders of the Antiochian church were evidently Grecian Jews.

"We know nothing of Symeon and Lucius and Manan, and yet it is good to have their names, for they remind us of the host of faithful witnesses of the truth who stood back of the Christian movement, and encouraged its leaders to carry on. George Eliot, one of our fine fables, speaks of the faithful who are not famous. 'What should we do without them? All great causes demand great leaders. Without Paul and Peter and Barnabas the early Church would have been as an undisciplined army without officers, or as a row of sand-hills. Paul, Lucius and Manan were needed as surely as Barnabas and Paul.'—The New Outlook.

While the church at Antioch, under the leadership of these five men, was carrying on its services of worship, prayer and fasting, an advance movement was initiated under the direction of God. It is probable that the prayer of the church was "awaiting upon God for special guidance on a matter already occupying their thought; this matter was surely the question of a forward movement into the Roman Empire." Paul and Barnabas, indeed, may have been thinking of this question when they had their last meeting with Jerusalem John Mark (Acts 12:25).

Extending Air Service Westward

Contracts As Far As Winnipeg Planned For Next Year

A gradual extension of the air mail services now successfully operating in the east to the west is contemplated by the Post Office Department. Flyers have started out to determine the best route for a service between Montreal and Winnipeg and whether aeroplanes or hydroplanes are the best adapted to the service.

Contracts as far as Winnipeg are planned for next year and the department has in view later an extension of this service across the prairie although to that end no definite steps will be taken for a while.

Homestead Entries

906 Homesteads Taken Up In Four Western Provinces During May

Homestead entries for Dominion lands granted in the four western provinces during May, totalled 906, as compared with 640 for the same month last year. By provinces, Manitoba recorded 44, as against 71 for May, 1927; Saskatchewan, 260, as against 287; Alberta, 516, as against 265; and British Columbia, 79, as against 17. For the five months of the current year entries totalled 3,885, as compared with 2,168 for the smaller period of 1927. By provinces, Manitoba recorded 207, as against 253; Saskatchewan, 1,221, as against 1,038; Alberta, 2,249, as against 840; and British Columbia, 208, as against 37.

Don't Make a Joy
Out of Baby
—Babies Have Nerves—

By BRYTH BRITAIN

Much of the nervousness in older children can be traced to the over-stimulation during infancy, caused by regarding baby as a sort of amusement for the amusement of parents, relatives and friends. Baby may be played with, but not for more than a quarter of an hour to an hour, beyond that, being handled, tickled, caused to laugh or even screamed, will sometimes result in fits, and invariably causes irritability, crying or sleeplessness.

CONSERVATIVES WIN IN B. C. BY LARGE MAJORITY

Vancouver.—The Liberal Government which has held power in British Columbia for the past twelve years, and which has been led by Premier J. D. MacLean for the past year, was defeated in the provincial elections, and the Conservative party, under the leadership to Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, was elected to power.

The Premier and at least two of his ministers were defeated. Dr. Tolmie was elected in Saanich.

Premier MacLean was defeated in Victoria; Hon. Dugald Donaghy, minister of finance, in Vancouver; Hon. E. D. Barrow, minister of agriculture, in Chilliwack.

Liberals have been elected in New Westminster, Cranbrook, and Nanaimo.

Conservatives have been returned in Vancouver six, Victoria four, Saanich, Burnaby, South Vancouver, North Okanagan, Chilliwack, Cowichan-Newcastle, Comox and The Islands.

The Liberals gained Cranbrook from the Conservatives, while the Conservatives have gained all six Vancouver seats, five from Liberals and one from the now defunct Provincial party; Chilliwack from Liberals; Comox from Independents; Burnaby from Labor; South Vancouver from Labor.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith was defeated by R. H. Pooley, in Esquimalt. Of the 48 seats contested in the provincial election of 1924, in the Legislature, the Liberals carried 23 in the last contest; the Conservatives, 17; Labor 3; Provincialists, 1; Independents, 1; and Independent Liberals, 1.

Receives New Appointment

Dr. Delury of Saskatchewan University Will Go To Manitoba

Winnipeg, Man.—Dr. I. S. Delury, of the University of Saskatchewan, will succeed Dr. R. C. Wallace as commissioner of mines and as professor of geology and mineralogy at the University of Manitoba. The appointment was announced by the government.

Prof. Delury expects to make the necessary arrangements with the University of Saskatchewan to make it possible to take to his new post here September 1, when Dr. R. C. Wallace leaves to take over the position of president of the University of Alberta.

Dr. Delury is well known in Winnipeg and Manitoba. For many years the right hand man of Dr. Wallace in the department of geology and mineralogy at the University of Manitoba. In that capacity he rendered valuable service to the province. One of his latest contributions was a volume of reports which he prepared two or three years ago for the industrial development board.

It is only a year ago since he left to organize the department of geology at the University of Saskatchewan as professor in charge of that department.

Dr. Delury is a graduate of the University of Toronto and of the University of Minnesota, and was in charge of the department of geology in the University of Idaho before he came to Manitoba in 1913.

Russia Buys Canadian Wheat

Further Sales Of Canadian Wheat To Russia Are Announced

Winnipeg.—Further sales of Canadian wheat to Russia were announced at the grain exchange here. That country has taken another 1,500,000 bushels, bringing her total purchases during the past fortnight to 9,500,000 bushels.

A good portion of the grain was No. 3 Northern Manitoba. Italy is credited with the purchase of one million bushels of Durum wheat recently, mostly from the local market. Demand from other European countries remains indifferent partly because of increased native supplies and partly on account of prospects for large crops on the North American continent this year.

Canadian Militia Promotions

A Number Of Transfers and Promotions Are Announced

Ottawa.—The rank of "Brigadier" recently introduced in the British Army has been adopted in the Canadian Militia, with effect from July 1. The temporary rank of "brigadier" is in substitution for the temporary ranks of colonel commandant and colonel-in-chief.

Orders promulgated from defence headquarters announce a number of important promotions in the Canadian Militia. Among them are the following:

Major E. H. Cope has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and to command the Vancouver Regiment with regimental headquarters at Vancouver, B.C., vice lieutenant-colonel B. G. Wolfe Merton, M.C., who has been transferred to the reserve of officers.

Major W. W. Henderson has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and to command the 2nd regiment the Alberta Mounted Rifles, with regimental headquarters at Pincher Creek, Alta., vice lieutenant-colonel J. H. Jackson, transferred to the reserve of officers.

May Establish Trade Treaty With Germany

Flour Would Lead Canada's Export List, Says N. B. Palmer

St. John, N.B.—Canada export trade with Germany will be greatly increased under favorable treaty agreements which the Dominion is now endeavoring to establish with that country, said Mr. N. B. Palmer, of Calgary, newly appointed assistant Canadian Trade Commissioner to Hamburg, who was here in connection with a tour of the Maritime provinces with a view to developing Maritime export trade with Germany.

In speaking of Canada's trade conditions with Germany, Mr. Palmer stated that at the present time Canada is discriminated against as a result of existing agreements which particularly affected the export of flour as well as other commodities. Should the trade treaties being advanced by the Canadian Government go through successfully, Mr. Palmer is of the opinion that flour would lead Canada's export list to Germany.

Receive Royal Pictures Fo National Gallery

Gift Of King George Replaces Portraits Destroyed By Fire

Ottawa.—Pictures of King George, Queen Mary, Prince of Wales, King Edward and Queen Alexandra, were received by Eric Brown, director of the National Art Gallery, on behalf of the Canadian Government. These portraits are the gift of King George and will replace the pictures of these distinguished members of the royal family which were in the old parliament buildings but were destroyed when the buildings were burned in 1916.

Considering Air Insurance

Canadian Companies Believe People Will Want This Protection

Ottawa.—Canadian insurance companies are considering special forms of insurance for civilians interesting themselves in aviation; it is learned. Recently a conference of actuaries and insurance medical authorities is said to have discussed the matter, realizing that soon the man who drives his own plane will be in the same category as the man who drives his own car, so far as the demand for insurance is concerned.

Will Tour Canada

Quebec.—Fifty members of the National Chamber of Commerce, of Great Britain, headed by Counsellor James Stanworth, president of the Chamber, arrived here and immediately proceeded to Montreal by train. The party will tour Canada, staying in Montreal two days before going to Ottawa.

Federal Government To Raise Pigeons. Ottawa.—The Dominion Government is going in for pigeon-breeding. The object is not, however, to increase the food supply of the country. It is to breed and train pigeons for purposes of communication. The department of national defence is to have charge of the work.

Clark's Status Discussed

Duties Of British High Commissioner In Canada Debated In House

London.—The British Government's newly appointed high commissioner in Canada, Sir William Clark, who is sailing for Ottawa shortly, and the duties of the newly created position were discussed in the House of Commons when P. J. Hannan, Conservative, Mosley, asked whether the High Commissioner would take precedence over the representative of all foreign powers at Ottawa, and if in submitting proposals respecting British commercial interests to the Government of Canada, he would have full diplomatic support of his Majesty's government in Britain.

Right Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, Dominion Secretary, in replying reminded the questioner of the similar case of the Dominion high commissioners in Britain, who ranked immediately after cabinet ministers, but not before foreign ambassadors.

It was of course contemplated that the high commissioner of Great Britain, in Canada, would be authorized to make representations on commercial questions to the Canadian government when instructed to do so by His Majesty's government in Great Britain, the minister said.

Statistics Show Crime Increase In Canada

Convictions Recorded In 1927 Higher Than Previous Year

Ottawa.—Crime is increasing in Canada. Latest official statistics available show that for the year ended September 30, 1927, the number of convictions recorded reached a total of 212,075 as compared with 187,301 for the preceding period ended September 30, 1926.

The number of indictable offences returned for the year under review, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was 23,526 charges and 15,833 convictions. Summary convictions for non-indictable offences amounted to 193,240.

Would Export Alberta Gas

Plan To Pipe Waste Gas To Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Montana

Lethbridge, Alta.—Alberta's problem of waste gas seems closer to solution and it appears to lie in the piping of the surplus gas to Saskatchewan and Manitoba cities, and the cities of Montana.

In an interview here, Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, gave it as his opinion the shipping of gas 800 miles to Winnipeg, serving intermediate cities, including Moose Jaw and Regina, was feasible.

Again exportation of gas from the Rogers' field, southeast of this city, is now possible under Federal permit. The Range Oil and Gas Company has studded in another well on the Rogers dome just south and east of the 60,000,000 foot producer, and the plans of this company and the Hardrock Oil Company, of Great Falls, who will drill the wells, are to have gas flowing through their pipe line into Montana by winter. A pipe line will be built to the Montana boundary, it is announced, either to link up with the present pipe line to Great Falls or as a separate line into that city.

Feeling Against Noble

Leader Of Italia Expedition Under Criticism In Norway

Oslo, Norway.—Feeling against General Umberto Noble, leader of the Italia expedition, is making itself felt in Oslo.

The newspaper Aftenposten removed a picture of the general from a show case during the day as threats had been made to destroy it. Several Danish explorers have proposed a court of honor to investigate Noble's leadership of the expedition. Hansen declined this but said that he thought there were several events in Noble's expedition that need closer investigation.

No Claims Paid This Year

Government Does Not Intend To Pay Reparations Now

Ottawa, Ont.—Although the War Reparations Commissioner has made his report which was made public last season, the government does not intend to pay the claims for a year. Part of the money for this purpose was included in Hon. James A. Robb's surplus. There was much disappointment among the big claimants at the size of their awards. These may be revised by the Government, but the 3,000 small claimants will have to be satisfied with what Reparation Commissioner F. Riel found due them.

Victoria, B.C.—Reconstruction of the financial structure of the Canadian National Railways, in a plan to be submitted to the Government at the next session, was intimated by Sir Henry Thornton in an address here to the Kiwanis Club.

ASSASSIN OF GEN. OBREGON IS IDENTIFIED

Mexico City.—Police headquarters semi-officially announced that the assassin of General Obregon had been identified as Jose de Leon Toral, an art student, aged 23, a native of Lagos, in the State of Jalisco.

He is said to have lived at Guadalupe, but to have come to Mexico City six months ago seeking work. Police said they found upon him a picture of the Catholic priest, Miguel Augustin Projearez, who was executed in connection with the attempt to assassinate Obregon with bombs last November.

It was said that de Leon Toral refused to admit accomplices and insisted throughout his grilling that he alone was responsible.

Federal district police arrested and held for investigation Emilio Casado, proprietor of the restaurant where Obregon was killed at San Angel, and all twelve employees of the place. Government censorship of dispatches was still in force.

El Universal Gráfico says that the mother and wife of the assassin have been arrested and are being held.

In a signed statement, President Plutarco Elias Calles declared that the assassin of General Obregon had admitted the motive of his crime was religious fervor.

There were innumerable rumors in the capital of uprisings and other killings, but all proved to be untrue. Intense excitement prevailed everywhere, but neither the newspapers nor the government had any information of trouble breaking out anywhere in the republic. The war department issued an official communique saying that the army would guarantee the public peace.

President Calles was surrounded by a strong guard. All saloons were closed, as were theatres and other places of amusement.

Many of those known to be opposed to Obregon fled from Mexico City before the fury of his friends and supporters, which were kept in bounds only by police precautions. The headquarters of Luis Morones, Secretary of Labor, and Obregon's greatest political opponent, were surrounded by a guard at the instance of President Calles, who feared that there might some attempts at violence.

Libel Action Settled

Action Was Brought By Cardinal Hayes Against London Newspaper

London.—Settlement of a libel action brought by Cardinal Hayes, of New York, against the Sunday Express was announced in the King's Bench division.

Counsel stated that a paragraph appearing in the newspaper had said that the cardinal was a man who excused murder of Kevin O'Higgins, Irish Free State minister of justice, on the ground that he was "an English hireling."

Counsel said that the defendants never suggested for one moment that the statement, which had been made by a contributor, could be justified and promptly did the honorable thing by apologizing for having published it.

Will Succeed Dr. Wallace

Winnipeg.—Dr. J. S. Delury, of Saskatoon, will succeed Dr. R. C. Wallace, as commissioner of Mines of Manitoba, and as professor of geology and mineralogy at the University of Manitoba. Dr. Delury expects to take over his duties when Prof. Wallace leaves to take the position of Professor of Mines at the Alberta University.

Brot Albanach

2. The Best Dancers Here! that will become a veritable bonspiel ball during the forthcoming Scottish gathering. The new entertaining pool is slung below the hotel.

Brot Albanach appeared on the menu of the "Trath Neolh Bladh" black air & bard; air an t-àmh lath de'n Neolhneamh M'or, and if any of those who attended the Highland Gathering and Scottish Music Festival at Banff last year could read that far, they know that "Guthran leath lath bhruich, agus mùicidh sìle-nichie," was nothing more formidable than broiled calves liver with bacon. If they ordered it, they will probably go back for more. The Highland Gathering was a great success last year. This year, between August 31 and September 2, it will be repeated. Banff will be Scotland for a week. Pipes will skirl through the forests and hills; the tartan will colour the trail; and there will be dancing, Highland dancing, and dance contests, and Caledonia games, tossing the caber, and putting the shot. And in the evenings, music—Scottish music—with famous singers as interpreters. For the first time in Canada—for the first time in nearly a hundred years anywhere, Burns' Cantata "The Jolly Beggars" will be presented—Gaelic, and the songs of the Lowland Scots; and on Sunday, at Sun Dance Canyon, a service in the open air. The old Covenanters tunes will be heard among the hills, and the piper will play the minster to his pulpit. Paintings and Pageantry—His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has once more graciously given his patronage to the Banff Highland gathering.

JOINING THE WHEAT POOL IS GOOD BUSINESS

A Toronto Business Man, Owner of Alberta
Farm Land, Says He Would Not Think of Staying Out of the Alberta Wheat Pool.

J. T. Todd, general manager of the J. T. Todd Lumber Company, Toronto, is the owner of a large tract of land in the Crowfoot district in Alberta. He is a staunch member of the Alberta Wheat Pool. In fact, so interested is Mr Todd in the Pool's development that he is endeavoring to persuade non Pool neighbors to join the organization.

In a recent letter to a neighbor at Crowfoot, Mr. Todd says:
"Dear—
"I have often wondered if you had joined the Wheat Pool. If you have not, I believe if you will consider this matter seriously you will find it is much to your interest to be a member of the Pool. As you know, the Pool is only the farmer in business for himself, and the more support the Pool has the better it is going to do for all of us. It is simply a cold-blooded proposition so far as we are concerned and we, like everyone else in business, want to get as much for our labor and wheat as we can. This is a day of co-operation and not only the farmers are doing this but the largest industries, such as automobile and steel, are doing the same. The people in the steel and automobile business are considered to be the brainiest in the world and they are only following the lead which the farmers have pointed out to them during the last five years. Stores are also doing the same.
"I believe if you will consider this matter from your own best interest and the best interests of the community and farmers at large you will decide that YOU CANNOT AFFORD NOT TO BE A POOL MEMBER. I would not think of being out of the Pool myself and I just purchased 320 more acres of land this spring, and as you know, 200 acres of that is now broken and will be in crop next year. All of my land is in the Pool, and in fact, if I had ten times as much land as I have it could be handled in no other way than through the Pool."
"I would like to see you and all the other fellows in the Crowfoot district members of the Pool. If enough would come in we could have an elevator at Crowfoot and that is what we want in time. I believe that with the way the movement is growing we will eventually have it."

Here and There

With concrete now up as far as the first bedroom windows and steel up to the fourth, the Royal York C. P. R. monster hotel in Toronto is well up to schedule and is expected to be completed in time for the opening next May, notwithstanding the short strikes of the steel and building trades.

W. M. Van Valkenburg, president of the Regina Board of Trade, says that his city and province are out to capture industries. That is one reason for his visit to Montreal and the Ottawa States. He figures that the mineral resources of the province should provide the basis for a number of industries, as 43 per cent of the provincial area lies within the pre-Cambrian shield.

Inauguration of the new New York-Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, passenger ship service recently represented the first entrance of a vessel from New York into Yarmouth harbor for the past 20 years. This was the S.S. Evangeline, of the Eastern Steamship Line, carrying 150 passengers. She is one of 5,000 tons and her sailing connects with the Dominion Atlantic Railway and the famous tourist route to Nova Scotia sea and holiday resorts.

This summer will witness a great deal of activity on the part of the grain companies as well as the Warma Pool in the construction of elevators at country points in Alberta to take care of the larger harvest which are expected. Another company which has just announced its intention to enter on a construction program is the Gillespie Grain Company. According to John Gillespie, president, the firm plans to erect six new elevators each with a capacity of 40,000 bushels.

Musicians under the leadership of Flight Lieutenant John A. Amers, forming the band of the Royal Air Force, Britain's youngest military band, landed recently at Quebec from Canadian Pacific liner Montserrat, for a tour of Canada from coast to coast, as did the band of the Coldstream Guards last year. The aggregation was formed in June, 1920, and since then has fulfilled engagements all over the British Isles. The band will play in all the principal centres, military centres and garrison towns of Canada during their tour here.

"First call for dinner." "Last call for dinner." The old monotonous warning to the hungry traveller is a thing of the past on the Trans-Canada Limited. C. P. R. trans-continental train from Montreal to Vancouver. To-day a suitably attired waiter in white coat and apron with a smart black bow tie walks through the cars ringing "chimes" on a dulcimer, an appeal at once more pleasant to the ear and more likely to attract attention than the former method. In time, there is no doubt, the idea will be adopted on all dining car trains of the railway.

Advertised to make the trip from Montreal to London in nine days, the Canadian Pacific freight ship Beaverbras actually completed the run in eight days and twenty hours, making record time for a freight vessel between the two ports. This ship is one of the five "Beaver" ships making up the new fast freight steamship service of the Canadian Pacific. They have refrigerated cargo space and are of 10,000 tons dead weight. The service is between Montreal and London, and there is a sailing from the Canadian port every Friday. The vessels as a rule making better time than most passenger vessels on the London route.

THERE is nothing that has ever taken Aspirin's place as an antidote for pain. It is safe, or physicians wouldn't use it, and endows its use by others. Sure, or several million users would have turned to something else. But get the real Aspirin (at any drugstore) with Bayer on the box, and the word genuine printed in red.

Aspirin is the trade mark registered in Canada indicating Bayer Manufacture. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer, many factories, to secure the public against imitations, the following is the Aspirin with Bayer Cross Trade Mark.

Helmi slept the sleep of utter exhaustion, for when she awakened the gray dawn was showing at the mouth of the cave. She looked around for the dog, but she was gone. The pain in her breasts was like a thousand knives twisting and torturing her, and a cry of utter anguish broke from her lips.

Then she remembered the horror of the night before and the terrible deed she had done. She saw again that face of fright and heard the scream.

She went to the mouth of the cave and saw below her the river, running so fair and peaceful and serene. The early morning light, platinum gray, was lying gently on the river's bosom, from which soft little veils of mist were ascending. Helmi shrank back from it in fright, remembering the man who had buried his troubles in its treacherous depths. She clung to the side of the cave pleading with the river not to tempt her. Watching its current she seemed to see Jack's face again gliding away from her. Then came little Lily's face, so cool and peaceful and smiling, with no more fever or pain, and an irresistible impulse to cool her burning, tortured breasts in the quiet green waters of the river drove her forward.

For one brittle moment she swayed toward the stream. Then something bounded against her, throwing her backward to the grass and her friend of the night before.

FARMER'S WIFE GETS STRENGTH

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wilton, Ont.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound through the change of life. It helps me and I cannot praise it too highly. I was troubled with heat flashes and my limbs were heavy so I could hardly walk to do my farm work. I saw in the newspapers your ad about the Vegetable Compound and thought to give it a trial. The first bottle gave me relief and I have told others what it does for me. I am willing for you to show my letter if you choose."—Mrs. D. B. Farnes, Wilton, Ontario.

was beside her, whimpering, whimpering, with a tenderness that Helmi knew, for it spoke a universal language. She crawled back in the cave, wide awake now, but writhing in her misery. Then came Cleo, the dog, with something in her mouth—which she laid in Helmi's arms—a little furry, cuddly puppy, with a rat little body and cool, soft, eager, questing lips.

When Helmi awakened with a brain cleared of her midnight terrors and a body eased of its pain, she noticed the revolver, which through all her mad night she had clutched in her hand. Horribly it recalled to her the madness of the terrible night and the loathsome deed that she had done. And yet—and yet—now that her brain was clearer, she could not recall that she had really fired the weapon. Her hand had been on the trigger when the lightning came.

She sprang toward it eagerly, for it could tell her what she wanted to know. Opening the chamber with trembling hand, she found every cartridge was in its place!

Then the soul of Helmi was born anew in thankfulness to God, and in a faith in His goodness that never again wavered, for God had saved her from sin. God had intervened to save her when her heart was farthest from Him. God was her friend. He loved her—He would not let her sin! With His own arm He had saved her.

Helmi went to the opening of the cave and drank in the beauty of the morning. The sun had just come over the edge of the earth, sending a sheen of gold and rose along the top of the mist that filled the valley below. As she watched, enraptured in her new-found gladness, the mist began to form into wisps and threads that curled and rose over the surface of the river, their upper ends twisting and twining into the air.

A song burst from Helmi's heart, a song of gladness and love and faith—a song that the Blue Book had taught her:

"When the mists have rolled in splendour on the beauty of the hills,

And the sunshine falls in gladness on the rivers and the glades."

There was a whimper beside her. Cleo had come out of the cave. Helmi put on her knees beside her, and kissed her honest forehead. "Cleo! Cleo!" she cried. "The dog God sent!"

CHAPTER XXIX.

Helmi reached her own house that morning before the people of Eagle Mines were stirring. It was a sweet morning, without a trace of the storm of the night before, only that the mist was washed clean and cooled in the mouth like a drink of spring water. She walked with her old sprightliness and without a single trace of fatigue.

Cleo followed her with one pup in her mouth, and Helmi carried the other two. The door of the house was not locked, and Helmi soon had a fire burning and a pot of porridge cooking for herself and the dog.

The house showed the traces of the human parties that had made it their abode, and from the fact that they had left the house dirty and jilted, Helmi knew that they were not real hunters, but only city men out looking for game. The true hunter will leave everything as he finds it; this is the law of the wilderness. But in Helmi's heart this morning there was no resentment as she swept and scrubbed. She had received so much from God that she could easily forgive any of his children, and as she worked she sang.

When the porridge was cooked and the condensed milk poured over it, she called Cleo, who had stayed outside until she was invited to enter. "Come in, Cleo," she said. "My house is yours. You and I will never part, and your pups are welcome, too. Come on!" Cleo came in, with a pup in her mouth, smiling as broadly as she could without altogether dropping the pup.

The dog's hunger was pathetic. All the more because it tried so hard not to appear ravenous. This was evidently her first good meal for several days. The puppies, tired out by their adventurous night, were soon fast asleep in a box in which Helmi had placed an old coat of Jack's, and in which they curled up into an indistinguishable mass of sable and white wool, with only one little round head showing.

When Cleo had eaten her breakfast she stood at attention, her eyes fixed on Helmi's face, as if she were trying to read her mind.

Helmi patted the dog's head. "Take a sleep, Cleo," she said, kindly; "when I get my house cleaned up and my clothes dried I will tell you all my plans. I do not know where we are going to live, you and I and our families, but I know we are going to live together. I heard many times in the city that no one wanted a girl with a baby, so I suppose a girl with a baby and a dog and three pups is not wanted either. But still I have faith in God, Cleo—He always helps. Now lie down and be happy we have enough here for a few days."

Life had changed for Helmi. The demon of revenge which had embittered her heart had been laid to rest by the hand of God, her friend. In her simple theology God had actually reached down His hand through the blackness of the storm and struck the magistrate dead because he had brought such evil upon her, and to prevent her from committing the crime of murder. God would be her friend for evermore; she would trust Him now whatever came. She had now no more fear for her baby. Lily was in God's keeping—God and the brown-eyed nurse who had spoken so kindly to her.

After a couple of hours of vigorous work Helmi had her house spotless again. Then she lay down to sleep, for a delicious weariness had come over her, and with it a sense of security and peace which she had never known in all her life before. "Home and God," she murmured to herself drowsily. "Now I can sleep."

It was the middle of the afternoon when Helmi awakened. Cleo was sitting beside her, watching her. The pups were still sleeping. She sat up, shaking out her golden hair. The fire had died down but the house was pleasantly warm.

Outdoors the sun shone brilliantly, and Helmi went out to inhale the delectable odors of spring. How she had missed this in the city! But here it was as poignantly sweet as ever. The wind from the river brought her the medicinal tang of the Balm of Gilead, pungent and healing, and Helmi's heart responded to it with a throbs of love, for she remembered the saline her mother used to make of the buds, boiled with clean water and on the stove strained through a white cloth and put away in little glass pots for use all the year. As she breathed in the odor reminiscently, from the woods behind the station came the liquid notes of the meadow lark.

Might Be Good Idea

Germany Has Suggestion For Checking Reckless Motorist

To check the activities of motorists who travel at reckless speeds, it is suggested in Germany that all drivers should be compelled to install a device that makes a red light glow as soon as the legal speed limit is exceeded.

This idea has apparently followed an invention of a German engineer, who devised a radiator cap light to warn pedestrians at night of the speed at which a car is approaching. Several lights are arranged as a radiator ornament, and for each extra mile-an-hour increase in speed a different light flashes. At sixty miles a red light glows as a warning signal.

Little Helps For This Week

"Let all those that put their trust in Thee rejoice; let them also that love Thy name be joyful in Thee."—Psalm vi. 11.

I know He is, and what He is. Whose one great purpose is the good. Of all; I rest my soul on His immortal love and Faithfulness. And trust Him as His children should.

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

To know God; to love Him altogether; to live the light of His countenance; to be satisfied with a little in some directions, because in others we have so much; to receive all things hopefully, because they are from Him; to take the peace of resting in His goodness; to desire all the day long, "Oh that my heart were as thy heart, and that wholly!"—these are open to us.

—John Hamilton Thorne.

A TIRED-OUT FEELING

Is a Sure Sign That the Blood Is Thin and Watery

"I am glad to have an opportunity of testifying to the benefits I derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," writes Mrs. Lawrence Kennedy, St. Joseph, N.H. She further says: "Some years ago I was working as a stenographer, and became so tired that I always had a tired-out feeling, had no appetite and suffered terribly from backache. Almost every month I had to remain from the office for a day or two. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I have reason to be glad that I followed this advice. Before I began to feel much better. Continuing their use my strength came back, I regained my appetite and the terrible backache from which I had suffered disappeared. I have been married some years now and have two fine healthy children, a girl and a boy, and am in the best of health. All this I owe to Dr. Williams' famous Pink Pills, and I trust that these few lines may help some other weak, run-down person."

All weak, run-down people who give this blood-building tonic a fair trial will find through its use new health and strength. You can get the pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from Dr. J. C. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE "GUM BOIL"

Your child has come running to you one day—suffering pain—and has pulled aside his lip to let you see an angry lump on his little jaw. And, since it was just as sore as a boil to touch, you called it a "gum boil."

Or, possibly he had not complained of any soreness then, but one day while scrubbing his teeth, you noticed this lump with a little opening in the centre, reminding you for all the world of a miniature volcano.

And from the "crater," was running a thick yellowish substance, which you knew to be pus.

Now, what had caused this? Just one thing—a dead pulp.

Then what should be done? For, of course, this condition should receive prompt treatment.

Should the tooth be not too badly decayed, your dentist may think it wise to try to save it. But more often, it should be extracted after the inflammation has pretty well subsided.

Following this treatment, the gum heals over and you congratulate yourself that no harm has been done. But consider: already serious disturbances may have resulted, in the disease process may have destroyed the permanent tooth germ beneath, to say nothing of the train of evils from the premature extraction of the offending tooth; and from the drainage of the pus into the system during the progress of the disease.

How much better, then, had the tooth received attention during the early stages of tooth decay.

What Could Be Clearer

Naughty little Jimmy had been eating green apples, so his mother had to call in the doctor.

The doctor, "told me what you think is the matter with you."

"It's like this, doctor," answered Jimmy from his bed of sickness, "you know how you feel when you don't know how you feel? Well, that's how I feel."

When Pain Comes

Useless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of this harmless,

Time Extended for Delivery of Wheat to the Wheat Pool

Whereas climatic and other conditions over which the farmer had no control have prevented a number of Pool members from delivering their wheat prior to the date set for cut-off, July 16th, 1928, the Board of Directors, by resolutions passed this 17th day of July, 1928, have authorized that any street wheat delivered at or by carload lots billed out of country houses on or before July 31st, 1928, be settled for on a basis of the 1927-28 Pool prices.

Members delivering wheat between the dates, July 16th and August 1st, will receive the Initial Payment on the 1928-29 Initial Payment schedule, but an adjustment will be made by the Pool head office which will bring the payment up to the 1927-28 Pool average price.

Anniversary Services

On Sunday last, July 22d, the minister and congregation of the Reformed Church at Glory Hills celebrated the 20th anniversary of the church.

At the morning service the sermon was preached by Rev R Birk, a former pastor, but now of Sutton, Neb., the subject of his address being "The Divine Greeting to the Churches."

At the afternoon service an address "Praising God for His Goodness," was delivered by Rev E Lehrer, Cambellsport, Wis.

Others who took part in these services were the pastor, Rev C H Reppert, Rev Weinbrauk of Fort Saskatchewan; Rev P Sommerlatte, Edgewood, B.C.

The edifice was filled to capacity. The services were beautified by the singing of the church choir. At the afternoon service, the regular choir was assisted by the Men's Choir of the German Baptist church, nearby. This was greatly appreciated by those present. In the basement, the ladies of the church served bountiful repasts, both at noon and in the evening. Among those present were visitors from Fort Saskatchewan, Vegreville, Castor, Duffield.

An offering was taken up, to be devoted to the purpose of installing new pews in the church.

On Tuesday at 8 p.m. an address was delivered in the church by Rev R Birk.

Tonight (Thursday) another service will be held when an address will be made by the Rev E Lehrer.

On Sunday next, July 19, services will be held at the Mewassin Church. The morning service will be in German. Rev E Lehrer will officiate. Afternoon service, at 2.30, in English. Sermon by Rev R Birk.

Stony Plain and District.

Alec Poelzer and Sam Gobel have gone to Marlboro.

The death occurred in Edmonton last week of Violet, only daughter of Mr & Mrs John Shearer. Funeral took place on Friday to Edmonton Cemetery. Mr and Mrs Shearer formerly lived in Stony, Mr Shearer being at that time an employee of the A-P Grain company.

Rev E Eberhardt preached the sermon at the opening of St Peter's church, in Edmonton, on Sunday last. The choir was under the direction of Prof. Schwerman. A large number of Lutherans from Stony Plain and district motored to the City, to be present at the opening services.

News of the Mariners.

"The Mystery of the Lost Propeller" was the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Bench Warmers, Saturday evening. An old salt suggested that the propeller may have been swallowed by a fish, as he had read in the Journal that a live muskrat was found inside a jackfish when the latter was caught, last week, in a lake in B.C.

Mariner Broth suggested that maybe that they had forgotten to install the propeller, before launching, and der Kapitän was advised to have a look round.

Mox Ticklish told how, as a boy, he used to tie tags on fish in a lake near his home, to note how much they had grown. One day Mox tied a tin whistle onto a fish's tail. Five years after, he caught it again. The fish hadn't grown very much, but the tin whistle had grown into a fog horn.

Notes of Edmonton Beach.

The ball game at this Beach on Sunday afternoon drew the biggest crowd of spectators of the season, and baseball fans were rewarded by seeing one of the best ball contests so far played here. Edmonton's Colored team and Holborn were the contestants, and each team played its best to win. However, the City team proved the better, and won by 11 runs to 8.
